Thank you for allowing your child to contribute in the above named programme. This form gives the BBC and its assignees and licensees the unrestricted right to use the whole or part of your child's contributions in all media (now known or invented in the future) throughout the world without limit of time. We hope to use your contribution, but we cannot guarantee to do so, and the BBC is under no obligation to make or transmit any programmes.

- You assign to the BBC the copyright and all other rights in your child's contributions for use in all media now known or which may be developed in future and you confirm that your child's contributions will not infringe the copyright, or similar rights, of any third party.
- In the light of the need of television production for flexibility, you agree that the BBC may edit, adapt, or translate your child's contributions and you waive irrevocably any "moral rights"<sup>2</sup> you or your child may have in them.
- The BBC will be liable for any loss or damage to your child, or your child's property, but only if it is directly connected with this engagement and caused by the BBC's negligence.
- You agree that your child's contributions will not bring the BBC into disrepute or be defamatory but you or your child will not be liable in respect of defamatory material which is included without negligence or malice on you or your child's part.
- You and your child agree not to disclose any information relating to the programme or your child's contribution to any third party unless such information is in the public domain

If you agree with the terms set out above please sign the form below and return it. A copy is attached for you to keep. If you are unsure of the meaning of any of the conditions set out above, the production team will be able to explain them to you. Thank you once again for your assistance.
